

Dreams, Visions, and Spiritual Warfare as they Relate to Passover, Firstfruits, and the Imminence of the Rapture

Armageddon Radio Show Notes for March 31st, 2010

In this article that developed from the show notes for my Armageddon Radio Show on March 31st, 2010, I'd like to relay a devoutly religious person's dream, which suggests a prominent Western political figure could be one of two Antichrists that could have been saved from perdition if only they would have accepted Christ as Savior, but who will reject Christ completely. Next, we'll discuss Christ's death and Resurrection in connection to Easter, Passover and Communion with a focus on Christ's blood as the source of healing over all the demonic sicknesses that plague mankind. Then I'll discuss my 2-Villain King of the North and South take on the Antichrist issue again. This double Antichrist scenario is NOT being picked up by other Bible Prophecy scholars and this oversight may lead even seemingly spiritually aware people to accept the true Antichrist as a Messiah sent by God. Finally, there will be a short question and answer session via live chat at the end of the show.

The first thing I'd like to talk about is the fascinating dream that an acquaintance shared with me this week. This is what he wrote:

"There have been occasions in my life that Father God has guided me with dreams. I had a dream last night after our observance of this years' Passover that I feel compelled to share with you.

I saw a black man, who I believed was Obama who was gradually being "possessed, indwelt" or "ruled" by an evil entity that I can only describe as a Seraphim or fiery flying serpent. It was a very evil entity bent on hate and destruction. The "indwelling" was not immediate, but increased over a period of time. The black man in the dream resisted the evil entity in his own power. I saw him sitting with his head in his hands, very troubled about what was happening to him but blindly he was rejecting the very thing that could help him.

I saw interceding individuals in the body of Messiah who represented the prayers of God's people. They were trying to administer a red colored substance orally to the man that could help hold off the evil and save him. This red liquid was like blood, and signified the blood of Christ. But the man would vomit it up rather than swallow it. And as he rejected Christ and everything that is Christian, the power of the evil entity grew until it fully indwelt him.

Eventually the man appeared to take on the full presence of this evil entity and became a fearsome spectacle. At that point everyone who was trying to help the man knew that he was now beyond all hope and they stopped praying for him. Then the dream ended.

I have not believed that Obama is the antichrist but he remains a candidate in my mind, especially of late with the decisions that he is making that completely disregard anything moral, good or with any consideration of the conservative American public.

There are a few scriptural tests that have to be fulfilled before I can be convinced that he is THE man of lawlessness. He certainly is A man of lawlessness, but the dream suggests he IS the Antichrist. I am not saying that he is, but that the dream was a warning that he may be."

Now, before we get into any discussion about who exactly the Antichrist may be, I'd like to discuss some other details of the dream that directly pertain to the Passover lamb, and Yahshua, who is the Lamb of God that was slain for the sins of mankind.

On that note, it's interesting that this person had this dream after eating an early Passover meal this past weekend, and that tonight is the first night of Passover week this year. As some of you many know, Passover centers around the spilling of the blood of an innocent male lamb. This blood was placed on the door posts of Israelite homes so that those inside could escape the death Angel that passed over Egypt. It was because of the events of that night that the Pharaoh of Egypt released the Israelites from bondage and allowed them to worship Yahweh with Moses at the base of Mount Horeb in Arabia.

Though there are many revisionists that say that the events of the Exodus never took place, there is ample evidence of it if you know where to look and you don't listen to mainstream archaeologists. This is because many archaeologists today are purposely trying to obscure any and all evidence of biblical history. However, there is overwhelming evidence that the Israelite Exodus from Egypt took place within the Bible and many other ancient manuscripts. There is also a good deal of evidence that can be gleaned from artifacts viewed through the eyes of scientists with a biblical worldview. According to a biblical chronology, which is based on the genealogical records in the book of Genesis, the Exodus occurred at around 1466 B.C., at the end of Egypt's Middle Kingdom period.

Due to faulty leadership and the slave mentality of the Israelites, the Bible tells us that Yahweh forced them to wander in the Sinai wilderness for 40 years before they were allowed to enter Canaan and conquer it. During that time, the Israelites were divinely given the Law of Moses or Torah, a specialized priesthood to educate and minister to the people. They are also given an elaborate system of animal sacrifice to show both repentance of sin and thankfulness to the one Almighty God that created them.

Through these sacrifices, the Israelites were taught that the only way a person could temporarily atone for their sins was through the shedding of innocent blood. Because that innocent blood wasn't perfect, it couldn't permanently atone for sin, but would eventually require that every human being die forever and be consigned to Hell unless a perfect atonement sacrifice could be found. Since God knew that making another Adam would result in the same failure, He sent an eternally existing part of Himself to incarnate in human flesh as a man born of a woman. This seed of the woman named Miriam fulfilled the prophecy in Genesis 3:15, which states:

“and I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your seed and her seed; he shall bruise your head then you shall bruise his heel.”

This prophecy was uttered by God, who was addressing the spirit of Satan that had possessed the serpent that tempted Eve in the Garden of Eden. At the time, God's words indicated that the seed or offspring of Satan and the children of Eve would eventually despise one another, and that eventually one of Eve's descendents would fatally bruise Satan's head while Satan's offspring would only succeed in non-fatally bruising the heel of Eve's child.

Now it's interesting to note here that the devil was still inhabiting the body of a serpent when God made this prophecy, and it was the literal offspring of that serpent that was meant in the prophecy. As I show in my book "The Language of God in History," the serpent seed of Satan was spawned when the fallen angels created the Nephilim by mixing the genes of animals, serpents, birds and human beings together to create inhuman monsters on a gigantic scale.

This brings us to the whole point of why Yahweh incarnated a part of Himself in the Person of Jesus or Yahshua. God did this so that He could personally redeem mankind from the corruption caused by sin in the physical world and in all flesh. God knew that Satan had devised a trap for mankind that they could never escape from on their own. From birth to death, men are subjected to the faulty thinking of demonic entities that pervert people not only in their minds, but in their flesh. This corruption was and still is caused by sexual immorality and carnal-minded thinking that seeks to satisfy fleshly and material needs without concern or love for others.

Now the Bible teaches that the physical life in the body of all living things is in the blood, and that only the shedding of that blood pays for the sins made while in that body unless a perfect atonement sacrifice can be offered up to redeem that flesh and cause it to live again. This is why Yahshua's blood had to be shed on the Cross. His perfect blood paid for the sins not just of one man named Adam, but for all the children of Adam and Eve ever born. Not only that, but just as the Passover Lamb was slain to save the lives of a few Israelites temporarily, Yahshua's blood was shed to redeem all of God's Creation from the clutches of sin, corruption and death forever.

This is why the Bible says:

“For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life. For God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through Him might be saved. He who believes in Him is not condemned; but he who does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.” - John 3:16-18

Now, one may ask, “What are people believing in Yahshua for?” That’s a valid question and I have an answer for it. People believe in Yahshua because they see their need for God’s perfect blood atonement through Christ. They are the ones who realize that they are slaves to the lusts and sinfulness of the flesh and cannot escape it except through death. These aware individuals cling to Christ for redemption and ask Him for the spiritual regeneration and physical healing that only His Spirit can give. In the meantime, they long and hope for the redemption of their spirits and flesh from corruption in the resurrection. At that time, because of their belief in and love for Yahshua, they know that they will be given new, incorruptible bodies just like Yahshua’s resurrected body.

As a graphic explanation of how we are saved, Jesus said:

“Unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you have no life in you. Whoever eats My flesh and drinks My blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day. For My flesh is food indeed, and My blood is drink indeed. He who eats My flesh and drinks My blood abides in Me, and I in him. As the living Father sent Me, and I live because of the Father, so he who feeds on Me will live because of Me. This is the bread which came down from heaven -- not as your fathers ate the manna, and are dead. He who eats this bread will live forever.” - John 6:53-58

This rather cannibalistic-sounding passage of Scripture is not meant literally, but is meant to be understood allegorically in reference to the events on the Last Passover meal Yahshua ate with His disciples before He died. This meal became the basis for the rite of Communion in Christianity, though it is and always was supposed to be the concluding segment of a Passover meal observance.

Though it is not necessarily wrong to remember Christ through the rite of Communion on a weekly basis, it tends to cheapen the solemnity of the rite, which is meant to be each believer’s personal renewal of their Covenant with Christ. Under the New Covenant, believers are called to surrender their lives to God, die to the world, take up their own cross, and follow Yahshua as citizens of the Kingdom of God. As such, believers are meant to refrain from evil and allow the Holy Spirit to work thorough them and in them in the process of transformation, regeneration, and sanctification.

While this is going on, believers also are meant to be utilizing Yahshua’s authority in prayer by applying His perfect blood to all their infirmities, sins and sicknesses and to those of their loved ones, thereby finding healing from diseases in the breaking of individual and generational curses, and forgiveness of sins. Finally, those who walk with Yahshua should be doing His miraculous works as well by utilizing His authority within them to command angels to do God's will in their lives and to condemn demons to cease their evil mischief, just as Christ did. We are Yahshua's army even now, and we need to be about Our Father's God's business while there is still time!

The blood and flesh of Christ refers to His designation as the Word of God, Living Water and Bread of Life in the Gospel of John and as the Matzo and Wine served at the end of the Passover Meal. These titles for Yahshua illustrate the fact that people can feed themselves spiritually through the divinely inspired words of the Bible and the pictorial symbols found in the Gospel in the Stars that all point to Yahshua and His perfect work for our salvation.

Speaking of the Heavenly Temple and altar marked by the horns of Taurus and Aries in the Gospel in the Stars and Yahshua's last Passover before His death, the writer of the book of Hebrews wrote:

"The law requires that nearly everything be cleansed with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness. It was necessary, then, for the copies of the heavenly things to be purified with these sacrifices, but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. For Christ did not enter a man-made sanctuary that was only a copy of the true one; he entered heaven itself, now to appear for us in God's presence. Nor did he enter heaven to offer himself again and again, the way the high priest enters the Most Holy Place every year with blood that is not his own. Then Christ would have had to suffer many times since the creation of the world. But now he has appeared once for all at the end of the ages to do away with sin by the sacrifice of himself. Just as man is destined to die once, and after that to face judgment, so Christ was sacrificed once to take away the sins of many people; and he will appear a second time, not to bear sin, but to bring salvation to those who are waiting for him." - Hebrews 9:22-28

This wonderful passage of Scripture shows why Christians refer to themselves being cleansed by the Blood of Yahshua or Jesus and also celebrate the resurrection of Christ in addition to His death. Because if it wasn't for the resurrection, Yahshua could not have presented Himself in the heavenly Temple as a firstfruits offering.

What this Scripture implies is that, while the priests in the Temple to Yahweh in Jerusalem were bundling together the firstfruits of the barley harvest to wave before God in the Most Holy Place, Yahshua was speaking to Miriam outside the rich man's Garden tomb where He had been laid after death. At that time, He said:

"'Woman, why are you weeping? Whom are you seeking?' She, supposing Him to be the gardener, said to Him, 'sir, if You have carried Him away, tell me where You have laid Him, and I will take Him away.' Jesus said to her, 'Mary!' Then she turned and said to Him, 'Rabboni!' (which is to say, Teacher). After this, Jesus said to her, 'Do not cling to Me, for I have not yet ascended to My Father; but go to

My brethren and say to them, "I am ascending to My Father and your Father, and to My God and your God." "" - John 20:15-17

After reading this, it makes sense to ask: "Why did Yahshua say this if He wasn't going to present Himself in Heaven until another 40 days had passed?" This question comes from the fact that most Bible teachers assume that Yahshua first ascended into Heaven as His disciples watched exactly 40 days after Easter Sunday, or 10 days before Pentecost or Shavuot. But the Gospel of John implies that this wasn't His only ascension! In fact, it is clear from John, Chapter 20, verse 17 that Yahshua intended to go directly to Heaven that morning to present Himself as the Firstfruits of the First Resurrection into everlasting life!

Now, this was done in accordance with the Mosaic Law, which stated that the firstfruits offering of barley was to be waved inside the Temple on the first day after the Sabbath during the Feast of Unleavened Bread that immediately followed Passover every year. Back then, the first day of the week always followed the Sabbath, or seventh day, and this first day is now called Sunday. That is why Christians celebrate their Savior's resurrection on a Sunday.

The Apostle Paul taught that Yahshua was not only our Passover Lamb but the Firstfruits offering, which is tied to Yahshua's New Testament designation as the unleavened or sinless Bread of Life. Paul made this clear in 1 Corinthians, Chapters 5 and 15.

In 1 Corinthians, Chapter 5, Verse 7, Paul said: "Therefore purge out the old leaven, that you may be a new lump, since you truly are unleavened. For indeed Christ, our Passover, was sacrificed for us."

And in 1 Corinthians, Chapter 15, Verse 20, Paul said:

"But now Christ is risen from the dead, and has become the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep."

In this way, Yahshua fulfilled the legal requirements of keeping the Passover, Firstfruits, and the Feast of Unleavened Bread. His Resurrection also paved the way for our redemption from the entire curse of the Law on Pentecost or Shavuot, when He poured out His Spirit on all mankind and made it freely available to anyone who believes in Him.

By Christ's Spirit, all believers are freed from the curse of their sinful flesh, which could never keep all the legal requirements of the Law. Instead, Christ fulfills these requirements for us as our Passover Lamb, our Bread of Life, our Living Water, and the Firstfruits of the Resurrection. He did this so that we could be freed from our bondage to sin and receive the promise of everlasting life in a flesh and bone body just like Christ had after His resurrection.

As it says in Luke, Chapter 24, Verse 39:

"Behold My hands and My feet, that it is I Myself. Handle Me and see, for a spirit does not have flesh and bones as you see I have."

Note here how Yahshua invited His disciples to touch Him, whereas He cautioned Mary not to touch Him when He had newly risen from the dead. This is because Yahshua hadn't presented Himself before the Father yet and He did not want to be contaminated with anything that was unclean, as Miriam's sinful flesh was.

Now, it is because of our hope in this bodily resurrection into incorruptible flesh that Paul said:

"Therefore we were buried with Him through baptism into death, that just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. For if we have been united together in the likeness of His death, certainly we also shall be in the likeness of His resurrection, knowing this, that our old man was crucified with Him, that the body of sin might be done away with, that we should no longer be slaves of sin. For he who has died has been freed from sin. Now if we died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with Him, knowing that Christ, having been raised from the dead, dies no more. Death no longer has dominion over Him." - Romans 6:4-9

This is the blessed hope of the resurrection that all Christians long for. They don't long for an eternity spent as a disembodied spirit but as a vibrant New Man of flesh and bone that will forever be permeated by God's Spirit and made in the perfect Image of Christ! Hallelu-Yah for that!

Before we move on to discussing Obama's place in the coming New World Order, or kingdom of the Antichrist, I wanted to mention that this secret ascension of Yahshua into Heaven on Resurrection Day or Easter Sunday and 40 days before His ascension with His earthly witnesses looking on is a clear allusion to the secret Rapture of the Saints that is mentioned in many places of the Bible. Though we don't have time to get into all the passages that support the Pre-Tribulation Rapture today, we will in a future show if the Lord tarries. In the meantime, I would like to give everyone a message from Yahshua that was given to me this past week.

On Palm Sunday, I went outside to get some fresh air and sunshine and decided to do a bit of gardening. While I worked, I did some soul-searching and began to pray. During a pause in my prayer, I heard God's voice speaking to me inwardly, as He has done many times when I needed comfort, conviction, confirmation or direction in the past.

This is what I remember of our conversation. Yahshua told me not to concern myself with things like gardening or finding work because He is coming for me and the rest of His Church soon in the Rapture. As I excitedly digested that information, I asked Him if He could tell me when, and He answered a bit cryptically, as He often does because He wants to make us think. His answer was simply "Before the summer flowers bloom."

At the time God said this to me, I had been cleaning out the dead growth in my summer flower beds, and He was referring to the many types of summer lilies I have planted in my garden, which begin to bud in June and flower in mid to late July.

I know this because, when He said "Before the summer flowers bloom", I mentally pictured these multiple-bloom, tall-stalked pink summer lilies that I have planted beside my garage, and which can bloom from mid-July through August. I love these flowers because they are so big, pretty, and long-lasting, but when they are in full bloom, I know summer is close to being over and I often feel a tinge of sadness when looking at them in all their glory because I know winter is coming.

But this Palm Sunday, God reassured me that I will not have to dread another winter on Earth! Instead, I can look forward to being a resurrected and glorified saint in His kingdom forever, along with a countless cloud of other witnesses to His Grace and Glory in Christ.

After having this encounter with God, I find it interesting that the Holy Spirit is pointing to the time of the amazing full Solar Eclipse that will occur over Easter Island on July 11th this year. This Solar Eclipse will occur about a month after the planet Uranus, which signifies the Bride of Christ, and the Messiah Planet Jupiter meet in a perfect conjunction. At that time, these two planets will meet over the fish of Pisces on the ecliptic, which appears to be riding on the back of the flying horse constellation named Pegasus. Now, keep in mind that this fish of Pisces on the ecliptic represents the True Church consisting of all true believers in Yahshua Ha Mashiach.

In my book "The Language of God in Prophecy" and in my free article about these celestial events and their ties to the Rapture called "Come Up Here and Come Away," I show that this Solar Eclipse is going to occur in the sign of Gemini signifying the Wedding of the Lamb in Heaven while the Sun is almost directly over Easter Island in the South Pacific. In my book on prophecy, I speculate that the righteous antediluvians that followed the teachings of Enoch the Sethite may have carved the peculiar statues of men called Moai that litter the landscape of this remote island.

I also reveal that I think these Moai may depict the starving and distressed people left behind to suffer in the Tribulation. I also think that the time when their suffering will get worse is marked in the heavens by a full Lunar Eclipse of the Moon that will occur on the night of Passover, and the day before Easter, on April 4th, 2015. Significantly, Easter Island was named as such because it was discovered 293 years earlier on Easter Sunday, April 4th, 1722! Though some might say so, in my mind there is no way that this date and holiday correlation is an accident! Instead, the discovery of Easter Island on an Easter Sunday falling on April 4th was an act of God pointing to the Easter Sunday falling on April 4th in 2014. It therefore may well be that the Wrath of God and the worst plagues of the Tribulation will be poured out on the Earth around that time.

Now, at the position south of the Equator where Easter Island is located, the constellation Pegasus appears in an upright rather than upside down position, which is the way it looks as seen from the Northern Hemisphere. From the perspective of the Southern Hemisphere over Easter Island, however, the fish of Pisces and planets Uranus and Jupiter over its back will not look like they're falling off of the horses' back between June 6th and July 11th, 2010. Instead, it will appear as if they're hitching a ride to Heaven on that horse along with the Messiah, who is depicted by the planet Jupiter and the nearby constellation Perseus. In other words, this may be a clear sign from God that the Rapture will occur near to the celestial events in June and July this year rather than near to the time of the Feast of Trumpets on September 9th and 10th this year as I originally supposed. However, it pays to note here that another perfect conjunction between Jupiter and Uranus will occur over the Pisces Fish signifying the True Church that is riding Pegasus on September 22nd this year, or eleven days after the Feast of Trumpets, which is also known as Rosh Hashanah among many practicing Jews.

So, before you share this revelation with anyone, please make sure you tell them that I'm not predicting a Rapture on June 6th when Jupiter and Uranus are in perfect conjunction over Pegasus, or on July 11th when the Sun eclipses in Gemini and Jupiter and Uranus are still near to each other. I am only saying that the Rapture might be around the time of these celestial events. However, the Rapture could occur as late as September or even December 21st, 2010, when there will be a full Lunar Eclipse over the sword tip of the constellation of Orion the Hunter.

For those of you unfamiliar with my interpretation of the Gospel in the Stars, Orion depicts the Messiah Yahshua as a conquering King who is wearing a belt of righteousness marked by His death on the Cross for our sins. If you ever get a chance to look at the constellation of Orion in the heavens, you might note that it is shaped like an hour glass. Well, though it could be an hour glass, it's also meant to be seen as a chalice or cup, and Orion's belt stars form the bottom of the cup's bowl. Furthermore, Orion's three belt stars were always meant to depict the three crosses that were on Calvary when Christ was crucified.

But for the Rapture to be before the Tribulation, it can't happen much later than December 21st in 2010 because the prophecies in the Psalms and the Great Pyramid, and the Celestial signs all point to the year 2011 as the first year of the seven-year Tribulation period, and I think that this Lunar Eclipse at the end of December 2010 marks the beginning of the Tribulation.

On that note, I'd like to point your attention to the fact that the media has been making mention that the United Kingdom no longer recognizes the special relationship of friendship and unity that it has shared with the United States for the past fifty years or so. It has instead made it increasingly more clear that this friendly relationship is at an end.

Interestingly, I talked about this very thing happening in my book "The Language of God in Prophecy," where I pointed to Daniel's prophecy of the lion with the eagles' wings that were torn off as a depiction of England severing its close relationship with the United States in the End Times.

Now, this is where my take on the Antichrist really needs to be emphasized, because though it appears that President Obama may indeed be a prominent Antichrist figure, he does not descend directly from royalty, nor does the number of his name equal 666 as Prince Charles of Wales does, or alternatively Prince William, and many people including me think that one of these two princes may be the final Antichrist, who is described as "the prince who is to come" in the Book of Daniel.

In a way, I believe Obama has already fulfilled the prophecy in 2 Thessalonians, which says that believers would know who the man of lawlessness is because he would appear at a time of great spiritual apostasy. However, this apostasy is not the coming deception of the fallen angels but the falling away of a huge portion of the Church into decadence, apostasy, greed and sloth through things like the Positive Thinking Movement and Health and Wealth Gospel, the Purpose-Driven Church, the Emergent Church movement, the New Age movement, and false End Time teachings like Dominion Theology and A-Millennialism.

For clarification, it helps to read the Scripture associated with this time period, which is found in II Thessalonians Chapter 2, verses 3 thru 12. There, it says:

"Let no one deceive you by any means; for that Day will not come unless the falling away comes first, and the man of sin is revealed, the son of perdition, who opposes and exalts himself above all that is called God or that is worshiped, so that he sits as God in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God... And now you know what is restraining, that he may be revealed in his own time. For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work; only He who now restrains will do so until He is taken out of the way."

Now, before I continue to quote this Scripture, I wanted to note that the restrainer in this passage is the True Church, whose members are filled with the Holy Spirit, and this implies that the Church will be removed at this time so that the Antichrist can completely take over the world. Now, the remainder of this passage in 2 Thessalonians states:

"And then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord will consume with the breath of His mouth and destroy with the brightness of His coming. The coming of the lawless one is according to the working of Satan, with all power, signs, and lying wonders, and with all unrighteous deception among those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth, that they might be saved. And for this reason God will send them strong delusion, that they should believe the lie, that they all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness.”

Right now, I am beginning to think that this man of lawlessness or lawless one may not be the same person as the Beast in the Book of Revelation, Chapter 13. If this is the case, then the man of lawlessness could be Obama, whom I think can also be seen as the end-time King of the South, while the Beast is referring to Prince Charles or his son William, who may signify the King of the North mentioned by the prophet Daniel.

Now, Daniel states that the King of the North will eventually conquer the armies of the King of the South. If this deduction is true, then my supposition that the United Kingdom, European Union and many other nations will invade the USA at the same time that they will engage in a war to take over Jerusalem via the world armies of the United Nations may soon come true. This war is probably the one referred to as the War of Gog and Magog in Ezekiel, Chapters 37 through 39. I believe this will be World War and will begin in the middle of the Tribulation period and last until the end of it, when Yahshua will return with His heavenly armies of angels and saints to conquer the Beast and False Prophet and the wicked people who will follow and worship them.

Though I do not think the Tribulation will open with the war described in Ezekiel 38 and 39, I am not ruling out the idea that there will be a war mostly confined in the Middle East. However, there may be some Terrorist bombings and fighting going on in other parts of the world too, especially the USA at the beginning of the Tribulation. Despite the possibility that this will be a limited nuclear war, I think that this war will be less fearsome than the Ezekiel 38 War or War of Armageddon. I also think it is prophesied about outside of Ezekiel via Psalms 83 and 108, which are connected to the events that have already occurred between Israel and its Arab, Persian and Asian neighbors between the years 1983 and 2008, the same years indicated by the Psalms in question.

Unfortunately, we don't have time to discuss all of my theories surrounding this war right now, but we will next time if the Lord tarries.

Before closing, I want to point your attention to <http://pillar-of-enoch.com>. At my Pillar of Enoch Ministry web site, you can read free articles about Obama possibly being the forerunner to the Antichrist that I wrote before he was elected and an article about Prince Charles possibly being the Antichrist that was written by a Messianic Rabbi that I studied under for a while. Both articles can be found near to the bottom of the Free Articles web page.

To access that page, use the left-hand button link on my main site page at <http://pillar-of-enoch.com> to go to the Free Articles section, where there are also plenty of other articles that are meant to encourage your spiritual growth. Among those articles, you'll find my article entitled "Come Up Here and Come Away," and I sincerely hope you will read this article about our hope in the Rapture as well, because Yahshua is definitely coming soon.
